The Anglican Church at Loxton is running a food pantry for those on low incomes, pensioners, the unemployed or those just struggling financially.

It will be held on the second and fourth Saturdays of the month between 9 am and 11 am at the Loxton Anglican Church Hall in Edward Street.

It will run as a trial at this stage on September the 14th and 28th and October the 12th and 26th in association with Foodbank.

Available will be long shelf life food with near of past 'best by' dates along with fresh and fruit and vegetables.

For further information or assistance in running the food pantry, please contact Louise Burgess on 0437 278 617

The Anglican Church at Renmark will host a Rose Festival Thanksgiving Service on Sunday the 20th of October.

The service at 11 am in James Avenue in Renmark will give thanks for those past and present in the festival and for the festival itself.

It will be followed by a morning tea outside the church by the Jarrett Memorial Gardens.

Everyone is invited including all those associated with the festival and the supporters of the festival.
